Payn, reviewing the operations of the life and casualty insurance companies transacting business in this State, was made public to-day. The report is ready at an unusually early time. On last Dec. 31 the assets of the life insurance com were $1,334,051,344, an increase of ganles with the previous g105,727,002, as compared with the previous rear. Of this amount New York State companies have $801,879,708, an increase of $62 265,494, and companies of other States $532. 171,636, an increase of $43,461,508. aggregate of premium notes and loans shows decrease of $29,061,785 during 1897, while deferred and uncollected premiums have degreased $142,866. The total liabilities of these companies on that date, excepting $9,740,000 of capital stock, were $1.148,249,329. The increase during the year was $94,641,191. The Habilities of New York State companies as reported are $687,020, 233; companies of other States, $461,229,096. The gross divisible surplus is: New York State sompanies, $114,859,475; companies of other States, $70,942,539; aggregate, $185,802,014 The aggregate receipts last year of New York State companies were $183,652,785, an Increase over 1896 of $13,620,599; other States empanies, $117,615,393; increase, $8,274, 472, making the gross receipts $301,268,179, and the gross increase over the receipts of the praceding year, $21,895,072. The net excess of receipts over disbursements for 1897 was $85,309,478, while for 1896 it was $80,356.

of receipts over disbursements for 1897 was $80,309,478, while for 1896 it was $80,356,474. The total premium receipts for 1896 were $123,714,320; for 1897, $239,894,411.

The disbursements of the life companies last year were $205,866,398, an increase of $6,693,594 compared with the preceding year; $92,688,305 was paid for claims; $26,431,311 for lapsed and surrendered policies; $18,425,197 in dividends to policy holders; $739,553 in dividends to stockholders; $31,252,634 for commissions; $16,613,883, for salarios and medical examiners fees, and $19,815,907 for miscellaneous purposes. This classification shows that, $137,544,814 was paid to policy holders, while the cost of management, including dividends to stockholders, was $68,321,578.

Last year the New York state companies, exclusive of industrial business, issued 247,500 policies, insuring $408,656,435. The companies of other States issued 183,957 policies, insuring $381,112,122, and terminated $15,806,500, licies, insuring $247,444,082. The aggregates of the above are 431,457 policies issued, insuring $923,804,876, and 262,402 policies terminated, insuring $556,100,517. Compared with 1846 it appears that the companies issued $1,351 policies more last year, and increased the amount of insurance written $127,680,550. There were 3,937 more policies terminated in 1897 than in 1896, and $4,627,489

The terminated policies are scheduled: 4mbunt. $67,000,868 12,601,171 99,120,890 191,457,623 974,288,300 38,688,029 102,948,330

At the close of 1897, the life companies doing business in this State, excluding industrial companies, had 2.155,241 policies in force, insuring $5,255,725,545, classified as follows: Whole life, 1,529,901 policies, insuring $3,706,983,506; endowment, 532,926 policies, insuring $1,215,644,261; all others, including term and irregular, 92,414 policies, insuring $285,886,629; total amount of additions to same, $47,209,149.

The total assets of the twenty-five casualty and fidelity insurance companies doing business in this State were on Dec. 31 last $31,898,633; llabilities, except capital, $13,354,962; eapital, $10,935,460; net surplus, $7,518,210; receipts last year, $17,952,751; disburements, $15,598,999; risks in force, $3,104,394,744.

The receipts of the State Insurance Department last year argregated $199,797 and the expenditures $124,320. In this report Superintendent Payn remarks that every amendment to the insurance laws recommended by him was favorably acted upon by the Legislature.

SLEEPY HOLLOW'S SCHOOLHOUSE Blate Superintendent Skinner Stops a Projected Sale of the Pamous Building.

ALBANY, N. Y., April 13.-Superintendent Charles R. Skinner of the State Department of Public Instruction to-day interfered to prevent the sale of the old Sleepy Hollow schoolhouse at Mount Pleasant, Westchester county. This is the building referred to by Washington Irving in his works, and when, on March 30 last, the trustees of school district No. 2 of the town of Mount Pleasant decided by a majority vote that Mount Pleasant decided by a majority vote that it should be sold at public auction on April 18, a protest immediately went up from a large number of residents of the district who want the old building preserved, even though a new schoolhouse has been recently built.

James R. Fountain, John A. Lant, and others, residents of the district, appealed to Superintentian Skinner against the action of the trustess in deciding to sell, on the ground that the meeting of the trustees had not been called segally. Superintendent Skinner to-day graated a stay of proceedings until the decision is reached on the appeal.

Jamaica Hay Marshes Sold by the State.

ALHANY, April 13.—Part of the marsh lands in Flatlands on Jamaica Hay, the title to which is disputed, the State claiming ownership, was sold by the State Engineer to-day under the direction of the State Land Board. Fifteen acres of the Johns marsh lands were sold to Lotia Marsh of Lansingburg for $850. A part of Duck Point marsh, embracing forty-one acres, was sold to Lilian Rourke of Brooklyn for $2.025. The Attorney-General held that the islands and Island marshes in Jamaica Hay, with the exception of Barren Island, which was passuled ever 200 years ago, belonged to the State.

IN MILDRED BREWSTER ANSANST SPENDTHRIFT WOOD FREE An Attempt to Prove Such to Mer Ty

MONTPELIER, Va., April 13.—The monoton examination of witnesses in regard to their opinion of the mental condition of Mildred Brewster, on trial for murdering Anna Wheeler, was resumed this morning. Lawrence and John McMahon testified to bearding in the same family with Miss Brewster. They thought and remarked at the time that she was not in a sound mental condition. John McMahon saw her on the street with Jack Wheeler at 1 o'clock one night when she seemed to be pleading with him. W. A. Shay, in cross-examine tion, told of her anger at him and her threat to strike him with a large pair of shears when he visited the tailoring establishment where she was employed. Later she threw the shears at him. He admitted that at the time he though it was an exhibition of her temper rather than of insanity.

Mary O'Neil testified to Miss Brewster's con ing to her sister's to engage board. She told witness she ate only one meal a day, and she could not afford to pay much for food. Witness was positive that she ate only one meal, and that she did not buy food to cat in her room During Lent, just before the tragedy, Miss Brewster denied herself almost everything in Brewster denied herself almost everything in the way of food. She told him she was going to fast through that Lent. He had heard her say she was not going to live a great while. In the fall of 1816, one Saturday afternoon, she atopped working, went home and dressed herself in her best clothes and came back to the shop. She appeared wild. A moment later she rushed toward the window and threw herself on the floor in front of it, making a distressed noise. A moment later she got up, laughing, and asked the girls if they thought she was going to jump out of the window.

The day before the tragody she said something was going to occur that would shock her, and that it would happen that night or the next morning. She was excited the day before the murder and wild all day, and finally threw down her work, and said ahe would do no more.

Mrs. Minnie Town, Frank Town, and Albert Snow, all of Jonesville, testified as to Miss Brewster's peculiar appearance in the spring of 1894. They considered her mentally unsound. Frank Briggs testified to the peculiar mental condition of her grandfather and mother. Mrs. Hattle Hanks testified in regard to Miss Brewster's joud and boisterous behavior when she went from Mentpeller to Huntington to attend a dance on Christmas, 1896.

UNITED STATES AND CANADA. All the Issues in Dispute Will Probably III.

OTTAWA, April 13.-The time has now arrived for the revision of the sealing regulations as provided by the Paris award. It is understood that the authorities at Washington have agreed to include in the negotiations all the issues in dispute between Canada and the United States. This arrangement has been brought about through the British Ambassado at Washington. In all probability the negotia tions will take place in Ottawa during June. The subjects to be discussed will be:

1. The question of pelagic sealing and the revision of the Behring Sea seal fisheries regulations.

2. The transchipment of fish in bond from 2. The transshipment of fish in bond from American vessels in Canadian ports, through Canada by rail, to ports in the United States, a privilege which is now accorded to Americans by the modus everedi.
3. International regulations for the preservation of the fisheries in the great lakes and other waters common to both countries, in accordance with the finding of the commission.
4. Revision of the Alien Labor laws of both

4. Revision of the Allen Labor laws of both countries, with a view to mitigating their drastic features as applied to the citizens of each country by the alien laws of the other.

5. Reciprocity in trade "without unnecessarily disturbing any existing industry in either country."

rily disturbing any existing industry in either country."

6. The transportation of the troops of either through the territory of the other in case of internal trouble.

It is understood that the negotiations on the British side will be conducted by Sir Julian Pauncefote. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and Sir Louis Davies. The latter will shortly proceed to Washington to arrange the preliminary matters relating to the conference. The anxiety of Great Britain for the removal of all sources of friction between Canada and the United States is believed to be at present, more singerely than ever before, shared by the people of the republic, so that a final and satisfactory settlement of the foregoing issues is within reasonable possibility. oregoing issues is within reasonable possibility, should these matters be adjusted, the question of the international boundary between Canada and Alaska will then be taken up.

GREENWICH'S NEGRO CHASER.

tured and Sent to Jail. GREENWICH, Conn., April 13.-During last month numerous complaints have been made to Prosecuting Attorney James F. Walsh by women who have been chased, when on the streets alone at night, by a negro. On Tuesday night, at 10 o'clock, while Walter Moryon and Joseph Tenfel, two boys, were returning to their home at West Greenwich they were accosted by a co.o.ed man, who came from behind a tree, and when they refused to obey his command to stop gave chase. The boys were thoroughly fright-ened, and ran into Mr. Walsh's residence near Tenfel told what had happened and enlisted

Mr. Waish's sid to capture the man.

The negro was followed and captured, and was locked up. He denied having chased the boys. Several women visited the lockup and identified him as the man who bad chased them. In his pockets were found four large stones, a candle, and a knife.

him as the man who had chased them. In his pockets were found four large stones, a candle, and a knife.

Before Judge Burnes this morning he gave his name as Sylvester Wood, and admitted having chased the boy's, but said he did not intend to harm them. He donied having chased any women, and as those who had been chased were too frightened at the time to recognize his features sufficiently to swear against him, they did not teatify. His height and build answered the description, however. He was sent to jail for thirty days. Wood is not overbright. He came here from the South seven months ago, and most of the time has been idle. He accounted for the stones in his pockets when captured by saying he was afraid when out at night.

MAY RELLARD DAY IN WAIT WHEN HE WAS BELEASED.

e Had a Cab to Take Him Away, and Be clared the Intended to Marry Him Wood Lawyer Managed, However, to Steer Mis Choat Past Her Coares—The Lawyer Would Not Tell Where He Was Taking Him

William G. Wood, who squandered on May Kellard a large portion of the $1,000,000 his father left him, was released from the Tombs Prison yesterday. Wood's discharge was brought about by his counsel, Col. Robert J. Haire, who says he will now bring suit against Wood's wife for the money Wood turned over to her few years ago. At the door of the Criminal Courts building the Kellard woman was waiting for Wood. She had a cab waiting to take him away, vowing that she intended to marry him. Haire also had a cab waiting, and he succeeded in getting Wood away before Miss Kellard saw

In Part I. of the General Sessions Judge New burger signed the order releasing Wood. Alcharging forgery, neither of them will ever be tried. The indictments were not dismissed however. Wood was simply discharged on his own recognizance. He had been indicted on Dec. 3, 1896, on the complaint of his wife, who charged that he had forged her name to two promissory notes for $1,000 each. May Kellard was jointly indicted on a charge of forgery, and also on another charge of uttering forged was jointly indicted on a charge of forgery, and also on another charge of uttering forged notes. Miss Kellard was recently discharged from the Tombs. There is an indictment still on file against her.

After Wood and the Kellard woman had been indicted Judge Newburger appointed a commission to inquire into Wood's sanity. Witnesses testified that Wood was in the habit of squandering his money on the Kellard woman, and that he often spent as much as $50,000 in one day purchasing diamonds for her. Witnesses also testified that he nad purchased a four-story house for her, and that in many cases she pledged the lewels Wood gave her in pawnshops the day she received them. The commission reported that Wood was insane, and Judge Newburger committed Wood to an asylum.

May Kellard is the woman who induced Barbara Aub to make a statement before Recorder Goff to the effect that she had lied in the charges of assault which she made against Walter Langerman, which statement secured Langerman's release. May Kellard was placed on trial for forging Mrs. Wood's name. The trial lasted ten days and resulted in a disagreement of the jury, one of jurora having been removed from the box, the proseculing attorney claiming that the prisoner had filired with him. She was returned to the Tombs and remained there for two months before being again arraigned in the Court of General Sessions. This time she was put on trial on a charge of obtaining a harp with intent to defraud the owner of f. In this case the jury acquitted her.

Again she was remanded to the Tombs to stand trial on one of the forgery indictments. She was only in the Tombs as few days when she was released on her own recognizance. She declared that she would employ a lawyer stone to get Wood out of the asylum so that she could marry him. Two days later Mr. Haire who had been her coursel, suce out a writ of habeas corpus and had Wood before the Supreme Court in Kings county, where Justice Dickey signed an order returning him to the Tombs, it being claimed that if Wood had be Assistant District Attorney Henry W. Unger schulitted this.

Before driving away with Wood, Mr. Haire declined to say where he intended to take him. He said, however, that he would see to it that Wood was kept away from the Kellard woman. He added that he had commenced civil suits against Mrs. Virginia Wood to recover the real estate and personal property which Wood had transferred to her, and which Mr. Haire said, amounted in all to $500,000.

THREE FORGERS ARRESTED. The Youngest of the Lot, Who is 15, Got Only

Capt, McClusky has under arrest three check forgers, of whom the oldest is 24 and the youngest scarcely 15. The prisoners are Christophe Davidson, aged 19 years, Adolph Osgood, aged 24 years, and Alvin Gonda, 15 years of age Gonda passed into the keeping of the Gerry society's men yesterday, as too young to be kent in a police cell. The boundary line is 16.

Gonda was an office boy in the real estate office of Thomas & Co., at 1742 Amsterdam avenue until two weeks ago. Osgood had been a stenographer in the employ of Fiss, Doerr & Co., the horsemen. According to the other two. he was the chief mover in the conspiracy that began on Jan. 11, with the presentation of check for $100 purporting to be signed by I. D. Carroll of the horsedealers' firm. The check was paid at the Union Square Bank. A week later, another for $50, signed "I. B. Doerr," was paid at the Fifth National Bank, and, in February, others for $100, $300, $500 and $200 were cashed at the Union Square and the Fourteenth Street banks. It was not discovered that they were forgod. Emboldened by their success, the forgers tried were forged.

Emboldened by their success, the forgers tried operations on a larger scale. Last Saturday a man presented an urgen scale. Last Saturday a man presented an urgent letter to William Resh of Crandall & Co., the representative of Fiss, Boers & Co. at Buffalo, asking him to cash two checks for $900 each for the bearer, who was there on business for the firm. The letter and the checks purported to be signed by the Treasurer of the concern. Mr. Resh told the man to come back later, and would have paid bim the money had he returned. As he did not show up, Mr. Resh grew suspicious and conferred with the firm in New York, who in turn called in the police. Capt, McClusky put Detectives Alonche and Carey on the track of the forger.

They arrosted Davidson, who had passed all the checks. He told them that Oagood gave them to him, and afterward represented that with a few blank checks and the signature of any firm he could do great things. He aroused the cupidity of Davidson, who, knowing Gonda, got him to get for him some checks and the signature of Thomas & Co.
Osgood and Gonda were arrested afterward. Gonds, when locked up at Headquarters, said that Davidson gave him only $10 all told.

CITY EMPLOYEES FIGHT.

Building Commissioner Brady Discharges Clerk and a Messenger for Unseemly Conduct Joseph T. Smith, who was appointed a clerk in the Building Department in 1895 by Superintendent Stovenson Constable, and Samuel M. Clarke, who was appointed a messenger in 1897 met each other in the public office of the department at 3:30 o'clock on Monday afternoon, when it was crowded with builders and archi tects. Superintendent Murphy was at his deak, and the clerks were busy. Without a word Clarke ran toward Smith and slapped him in the face with all his force. In another instant the two men were rolling on the floor, pummel-ing each other furiously.

The battle threw the office into an uproar, and clerks jumped from their desks to separate the combatants, who were covered with blood and commissioner Brady was amazed when he discovered what had happened. He notified both men to appear before him to explain their action. Each accused the other of striking the first blow, but they offered no excuse for the violation of discipline. Commissioner Brady's brow darkened.

"You are both civil service men?" he said, inquiringly.

"Yes." replied the culprits.

"Well, your behavior is disgraceful," the Commissioner said. "It is the most uncivil service you could render the department. You are both dismissed from this department."

He announced the dismissals yesterday. Smith got $1,300 a year and Clarke $900. Smith is 27 years old and Clarke about 55.

ALTGELD SCORES CLEVELAND. Me Compares Him with Jefferson at a Cole

CHICAGO, April 13,-Ex-Gov, John P. Altgeld was the principal speaker at the Jeffersonian celebration at Central Music Hall to-night Representative Democrats from all parts of the Union occupied seats on the stage. Mr. Altgeld closed:

"Glancing at the Administrations of Mr. Cleveland, we see the palaied hand of greed shaping the policy and marring the destiny of a great nation; we see golden gods, bonded altars, syndicate priests and interest-bearing gospels; we see the dollar made the master and man made the slave; we see toil disheartened and humanity weary; we see hypocrisy enthroned and false pretences sanctified; we see patriotism sold and find honor on the market; we see the people betraved and Democracy crippled, and finally we trayed and Democracy crippled, and finally we see it all end amid the contempt of the honest and the curses of the poor.

"But when we turn to Jefferson we breathe a different atmosphere, we stand beneath a different sky and gaze on a different sun. Here are the altars of liberty—equality and justice—from which radiate those forces that encourage the toiler, that cheer the patriot, that encoble a people and that build a State.

"Here we see a man who courted not the rich, who served humanity, who faced obloquy, who stood for principle, who betrayed no constituency, and who shirked no duty, and finally we see him loaded with benediction, his memory encircled with giory and his name enshrined in we see him loaded with benediction, his memory encircled with glory and his name enshrined in immortality. Oh, my countrymen, comparison is impossible, but contrast is instructive. Since his day generations of public men equally learned, equally able and equally industrious have lived and have gone, whose names are forgotten and whose ashes are lost. They did nothing for humanity; they traded in influence, they juggled in politics, and they lost a career.

"Now, my friends, for nearly two thousand years the true disciples of Christ have some to this altar to get a new inspiration, a stronger

So, after seeing the desolation wrought in our country by the precepts of Hamilton and the acts of Cleveland, we gather again at the altars of Jefferson to get a new inspiration, a stronger faith, a lottier purpose, and let us go away with a firmer resolve to maintain his standard, and to carry the principles of Democracy, not only to the ends of the earth, but to the end of time.

BROOKLYN BRIBERY SCANDAL. No Further Arrests-Looking for Col. Webste and His Hig Diamond.

District Attorney Marean of Brooklyn said yesterday that no additional warrants had been issued in the matter of the attempted bribery of the March Grand Jury that indicted Police Commissioner Philips, former City Works Commis sioner Willis, and seven others. He said that he believed there would be further revelations of corruption in a few days. As to the Col. Webster referred to as a go-between in the affidavit of Juror Frederick G. Islos, on which Commissioner Philips's secretary, Charles M. Winant, was arrested on Tuesday, the District Attorney said:

Winant, was arrested on Tuesday, the District Attorney said:

"The only clue we have at present is the fact that he is a large man wearing a big diamond pin. You could not expect me to arrest every large man who wore a big diamond. I am in hopes that he will be discovered before long."

Heferring to the attempt made to show that Henry D. Ohlsen, a member of the Grand Jury, did not commit suicide on the morning of March 28, but that he was murdered by some persons interested in the bribery case, District Attorney Marean said: "The jury said it was suicide, and that is all I know about the matter."

Police Captain Miles O'Reilly of the Adams street station said: "Ohison committed suicide, there is no doubt of that. I investigated every little detail that his relatives suggested, and everything pointed from the very start to suilittle detail that his relatives suggested, and everything pointed from the very start to suicide. Detective Captain James Reynolds said that he had I wo detectives working on the case, but that they had not been able to find that there was any reason in the least to suggest a case of murder."

WON'T TAKE IN OUTSIDE BROKERS Stock Exchange Committee Votes Against the

At a meeting of the Governing Committee of the New York Stock Exchange yesterday a proposition to have the Exchange attempt to take under its jurisdiction the outside brokers who have their meeting place on the sidewalk in front of the Mills building, where all sorts of unlisted securities are dealt in, was voted down. This is the second time that such a proposition has failed of adoption. As outlined, the scheme has proposed the establishment of a department for dealing in "outside securities," to be open only to responsible persons and clerks of Stock Exchange members: lounging room was to be set apart for the use of the new department. A membership fee was to be charged. No quotations would be sent over the ticker, and the Stock Exchange assumed no official responsibility for the market. Opposition to the scheme has come not only from members of the Exchange, but from the outside brokers. in front of the Mills building, where all sorts of

L. T. Cooke of Newark Mas Been Missing fo

Z. T. Cooke, for the last seven years a sales man in the employ of Swain & Jones, lumber merchants, of Newark, left his home on March merchants, of Newark, left his home on March 31 and has not returned. Cooke owns a small farm at Blairstown, N. J., and on March 31 started to visit it. Mrs. Cooke has not seen her husband since. He went to a restaurant in Newark to pay a bill, as he had told his wife he would, before boarding the train at the Morket street station of the Pennsylvania Railroad, but he never got to Blairstown. Cooke is about 30 years old, weighs about 140 pounds, is 5 feet 4 inches tail, has a dark mustache, and when he disappeared were dark clothing. He had about $25 and a premissory note for $80.

Exploding Beasine Causes a Paule on a Trai-

A large can of benzine on the front platform of trolley car 117 on the Orange street line, New-ark, exploded yesterday morning. The car was crowded, and several passengers were slightly burned or bruised. One man broke a window and jumped out. Miss Mary Brennan of 73 Freeman street suffered from shock and was taken into a house on Orange street. All the injured were able to walk away. Motorman Fitzmaurice's hair and mustache were singed.

HALIPAX, N. S., April 13.-The Beauer Ho. Lake Superior arrived this morning from Liver-pool for Mobile, after the roughest passage of leaving Liverpool on the 2d inst, heavy westerly Jeaving Liverpool on the 2d inst. beavy westerly winds were met with, which greatly interfered with the progress of the steamer. The Banks were crossed in 43° 80°, but no fee was met with at that point. In longitude 46° 50° west, latitude 44° north, icebergs were seen, one of which was very large. It is selfom that these ice mountains are seen so far east.

On Monday the Parislan was passed, bound east. Klondiko travel appears to be falling off. The Lake Superior brought only three passengers for the Yukon, and recent steamers all abow a decrease.
